Admiral Seguros and ING launch digital bancassurance partnership

Admiral Seguros, Admiral Group's Spanish motor insurance business, has announced that it has entered into a digital bancassurance partnership with ING Spain. The agreement means that ING will offer its more than 4 million customers in Spain, ING Orange Auto Insurance, a new car and motorcycle insurance product jointly designed by the two businesses.

This new strategic partnership with ING supports Admiral Group's ambition to diversify its distribution footprint to deliver high quality insurance solutions to even more people. It also strongly aligns with ING's aspiration to offer its customers products that make their day-to-day life easier and responds to their needs.

ING Orange Auto Insurance is 100 per cent digital and builds on both business' existing digital offering and commitment to delivering a seamless customer journey. The new product enables customers to access the support they need on their mobile phone wherever they are, and in a way that is convenient for them. With ING Orange Auto Insurance, customers can also select extensive personalised cover and are able to choose where their vehicle is repaired.

Sarah Harris, CEO of Admiral Seguros, said, "We are pleased to be entering into a long-term partnership with ING who share our aim to continuously innovate to meet the evolving needs of customers. This strategic agreement allows us to combine our digital capabilities so we can help even more people to look after their future."
