

Direct Insurer of the Year

08 Dec 2017

We're delighted to have been named Direct Insurer of the Year at the Insurance Times awards.

The prestigious awards took place at London's InterContinental 02 on Thursday 7th December to celebrate outstanding achievement and recognise the best of the best in the insurance industry.

The judges were impressed by our great customer service, innovation, consistent financial results and our launch into home insurance.

CEO David Stevens was also a finalist in the Insurer's CEO's CEO category.
